Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Seven

VOLUME XIV

Published by
SENIOR CLASS
WINDSOR COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL
WINDSOR, ILLINOIS

Dedication

In the fall of 1933 little did we then think we would be the first class to graduate from a new school building, although our desires and wishes were great.

Since our wish has come true and we are the first class to graduate from the New Building, we think it only fitting and proper to dedicate this volume of the Pow-Wow to the New Building.

So, to the New Building of our community we dedicate this volume of the Pow-Wow.

Foreword

For the past two years and years prior to these the graduating classes of W.C.H.S. have compiled a year book.

We, the Seniors of 1937 are continuing this custom with a new type of year book. The staff with the help of the Senior class, the suggestions of our advisers and the financial assistance of the merchants are able to present this volume of the Pow-Wow to you for your approval.

Senior Class History

In the fall of 1933 we Seniors were attending our first "Round Up." This "Round Up" was to be the beginning of our high school career, and to broaden our minds toward an education.

As the usual custom then, we were invited by the kind Sophomores to attend the branding (initiation). After this, our first year went along very peaceably in spite of the ups and downs of Algebra I and Latin I.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year we treated the Freshmen just as we had been treated. Attending our class and school parties, we soon found ourselves attending another Round Up.

During our third "Round Up," we were to assume more responsibilities than prior to this year. Under the direction of Miss Lough a group of eight Juniors put on a very enjoyable play, "Chintz Cottage," which was well attended. In May we sponsored with the kind help of Miss Walker, the usual Junior and Senior Banquet. Our Junior year proved to be a very busy one.

Now, we are attending our "Last Round Up." We Seniors feel highly honored to be the first class to graduate from this beautiful new school building. Seniors from other schools have joined us to complete their high school career. These are Jimmy Shafer, Ralph Fuller, Edred Venters, James Butcher, Ray Morford, Junior Manton and Charles Lichtenwalter.

Out of the thirty-three that were Freshmen in 1933, twenty-nine are graduating. These four have either moved away or have had to discontinue their work with us for some major reason. Edna Spencer who attended three years with us and the beginning of the fourth year, was compelled to drop her school work as a result of a serious accident.

To the school we Seniors have contributed for our unforgettable four years, excellent basket ball players, orchestra members, glee club members and actors and actresses for plays and operettas.

We, the class of 1937, feel we have benefitted greatly by our four years of school training and many of us have a desire to go on and continue this urge for a larger and better education.

—Mildred Thompson, Historian.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

September 3, 1934, brought to Winsor High School thirty seven ambitious students, eager to begin the four years of higher education that was offered to us.

Miss Sutter and Mr. Davis consented to help us through this first trying year, and most of us came through with flying colors.

On September 3, 1935, thirty survivors chose Miss Luby as their class adviser. We held the usual class functions, arriving at last at the long sought for Junior year.

Two important events have marked this Junior year. First under Miss Lough's direction we presented the Junior Class play, "Page Asa Bunker," and second, with the aid of Miss Hood, we entertained the Seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Even though we are anxiously awaiting the time when we are dignified Seniors this year has brought much happiness and we hate to see it end.

—Paul Morrison, Historian.

A Dream Come True

In the "Pow-Wow" for 1927 there appeared on page nineteen a prophecy by Katherine Luce, '28 "Ten years from now will show you a new high school building one of the best schools in Central Illinois."

Miracle of miracles! These prophetic words have come true, and the year IS 1937, or within the time allotted by the prophet.

We now have a building whose majestic appearance symbolizes the beauty and truth to be gained in our modern age learning.

As you enter by either of the two front entrances, you step into spacious corridors floored with terazzo. The walls of the corridors are lined with buff salt glazed brick. Students' lockers are recessed in the walls of the corridors. Recessed drinking fountains are at convenient places in the school building. A glass trophy case is in the center of the north wall of the lower corridor.

After entering the east door, you find a recitation room, the agriculture laboratory, and the boys' rest room. This corridor leads to the gymnasium-auditorium. On the south side of the corridor, the first door leads to a spacious office. On down the hall on the south is another recitation room. The next door to this is the sewing laboratory. At the extreme west is found the all modern domestic science suite, which has a large cooking laboratory, pantry, and dining room.

The manual arts room, which is upon basement level, is at the west end of the building. The west corridor also leads to the gymnasium, clinic room, and girls' rest room.

Our gym is said to be one of the finest in Central Illinois. The hard wood floor has a lakelite finish, which makes it a very attractive floor. The markings on the floor are the required changes made in basket ball. On the north side there are four rows of bleachers and a balcony above these. On the south side there is a stage with a 55 foot opening, which is used for dramatics, music classes and orchestra. The stage is equipped with rust velvet curtains with gold crescent. In the rear of the stage, is a beautiful back-drop which is an outdoor scene. There are also other necessary curtains of a light tan. Girls' and boys' locker rooms may be reached from either end of the gym.

The second floor is reached by two flights of stairs, one on the east and one on the west. Here is found the large library facing the south, and containing fourteen tables and accommodating 84 students. The library, which has taken place of the old assembly, is in accord with modern education. On this same floor, there is a large science laboratory, equipped for both chemistry and physics, and biology. On the extreme west, there is a recitation room. On the east side, there are the commercial rooms which are separated by a glass door and windows.

Cabinets are in each class room, and in various places there are found supply closets. The floors of all the class rooms are of tile laid out in squares of buff and gray with a black border.

This is a school which any student should be glad to attend; it competes with surrounding schools in courses offered and in beauty.

We Seniors feel proud to have had the privilege of attending this school for one year, and we are happy that our class is the first one to be graduated from it.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

After a long summer vacation, we, the former Freshmen class, entered the new high school as Sophomores. There were 31 of us, 6 less than last year. Since then, 3 of our members have dropped out. We chose Mr. George Johnson, Agriculture teacher, as our class adviser, and he has proven the choice a wise one. At the same time, we elected Ruby Veech, president, Emma C. Hudson, vice-president, and Peggy Gordon, secretary-treasurer.

Our first class party was postponed until later in the year when the building would be finished. It was held on March 12, and chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Then later in March, an interclass basketball tournament was held. We were beaten by Jimmy Shafer's Senior team, but avenged ourselves by defeating Junior Elder's Junior Five. The men on our team were: J. S. Garvin, "Red" Workman, Paul Ellis, Dwight Richardson, and Ivan Kall. "Toy" Carter and Dick Lugar were subs. We all look forward to seeing some of them on the first team next year, because they're really good, we think.
 —Ruth Ramsey, Historian.

Freshman Class

 Fifth Row James Turner, Jean Maize, Barbara Jones, Helen Figgins, Audrey Tull, Eugene Baugher, Ralph Kasey.
 Sixth Row Harry Carr, Kenneth Anderson, Harold Noffke, Orville Antrim, Joe Hampton, Raymond Butcher, Johnny Kline.

FRESHMEN CLASS HISTORY

On September 21st., we forty-five Freshmen entered the new school with fear in our hearts. We thought the teachers super natural beings, but soon found they were human as the rest. The working men, and the lack of seats and desks added to our confusion.

We had a class party April the nineteenth, in the gym, with Miss Walker, Miss Sutter and Mr. Bennett as chaperones. There were about 35 present.

We chose Miss Walker as our class adviser, and she has proven an able one. The class officers are as follows: Joe Hampton, president, Laurnette May, vice-president, Raymond Butcher, secretary-treasurer.

THE HONOR ROLL

To be on the scholastic Honor Roll
 Is an honor of which to be proud.
 In fact, it has a tendency
 To raise you above the crowd.
 It means long hours of studious toil,
 To reach these Olympian heights.
 And if you win in the honorable way
 The honor is yours, by right.
 But whether you scale the peaks or not,
 In school, or life's great strife,
 The greatest honor you can attain
 Is the Honor Roll of Life.

Social Events

Senior Party

The Senior class entertained themselves, and a few guests at a Bunco party on December 9 in the high school gym. The winners of the high and booby prizes were Phyllis Storm high and Ivan Garrett, booby. After tiring of the game, refreshments of sandwiches and pop were served.

Junior Party

The Juniors held a party in the gymnasium on the night of March 26. They were chaperoned by Miss Hood, Miss Lough, and Mr. Bennett. Bunco was the main entertainment of the evening. Refreshments of sandwiches and pop were served.

Sophomore Party

On March 19, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson helped the Sophomores entertain themselves at a party in the gym. They played various games, after which refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, and pop were served.

Freshman Party

The students of the Freshman class held their first party in the gym on the night of March 12. These young people were accompanied by their adviser, Miss Walker. Miss Satter and Mr. Bennett were guests at this party. After playing all sorts of games they served themselves ice cream bars and sandwiches.

Christmas Party

The girls being losers of the basketball ticket sale, had the boys as their guests at a Christmas party in the gym on Thursday, December 24th. Pupils from our own school and from Sullivan presented to us a very enjoyable program, after which contests were held. The usual Christmas gift exchange was conducted over which much merriment was found. Santa Claus was present and the P.-T. A., with the help of Santa Claus, gave each one an orange and a candy bar. At the usual time that school would have been out, everyone departed wishing each one a Merry Christmas.

Luncheons By Cooking Class

During the year the Cooking class, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Sutter, served lunches at the noon hour, to the various classes and to the faculty. On St. Patrick's Day they served a very delicious dinner to the faculty. The color scheme of green and white was carried out in a clever way. On cold days they served different kinds of soup to the school (with pay).

Pep Meetings

Usually sometime during the day before each basketball game, pep meetings were held in the gym conducted by our cheer leaders, Ruby Janes, Ivan Garrett, and Joe Hampton.

Social Events

Junior-Senior Party

Possibly the most outstanding task of us Seniors last year, was being hostess to the Seniors, Faculty Board of Education and their wives at the annual Junior and Senior Banquet. This banquet was prepared by the ladies of the Christian church with the Sophomore girls and boys acting as waitresses and waiters. The theme of the banquet was "The Last Round Up," the church being decorated in keeping with this idea. In the middle of the room, a corral was built with true to life versions of the west. Blue and white streamers were used in making a dropped ceiling, to appear as the sky. Saddles and blankets were hung about the room. The following menu was served:

Fruit Cocktail—Wafers
Veal Loaf Mashed Potatoes
Waldorf Salad—Creamed Peas
Radishes—Rolls
Angel Food Cake—Strawberry Ice Cream
Coffee
Nuts—Mints

The following program was given after the dinner:

"Get Along Little Doggie"	Ruby Janes
"Headed For The Last Round Up"	. Waverly Workman
"The Last Round Up," Song Everybody
"First Branding"	Supt. J. H. Dunsecomb
"Roll Along Prairie Moon," Cornet Solo	Daniel Swinford
"Around The Campfire"	Helen L. Juhnke, Ruby Miller
"Wa Hoo," duet	Eleanor Richardson, Helen L. Juhnke
"A Cowboy's Dream"	Lyle Munson

We were advised by Miss Walker in preparing this banquet.

FUTURE FARMER ACTIVITIES

The Future Farmer Organization of Windsor Community High School was organized by the boys of the Agriculture class in 1936.

That fall a Future Farmer baseball team was organized. We played Strasburg and were defeated by a score of 4 to 1.

Later in the fall the F. F. A. officers were elected as follows: Ralph Fuller, President; James Shafer, vice president. James Butcher, secretary-treasurer; Steven Elliott, Sargent at Arms; Bill Johnson, reporter.

At the beginning of the basketball season a F.F.A. basketball team was organized. Four games were played, two with Tower Hill, and two with Shelbyville. We were defeated three out of the four games.

On February 1st a pest control contest was organized between Windsor and Shelbyville to end May 15. The pests which are exterminated are mice, rats, crows, hawks, sparrows, and starlings. Each hunting several points for that individual killing them.

On April 6th a grain, poultry and corn judging team journeyed to Mt. Zion to take part in the judging contest. We came home with sixth place in poultry judging but did little more than place in the grain and corn event.

Although this was Windsor's first year in the Future Farmer organization, a lot was gained and next year a more definite program will be carried out.

Reported by Donald McCollum, Bill Johnson.

G. A. A.

First Row: Thelma King, Elinor Curry, Rosalie Storm, Aileen Carter, Instructor, Miss Lough.
Second Row: Naomi Dewar, Marjorie Cruik, Mary Jane Boyle, Betty Ann Edwards, Rosemary Edwards
Third Row: Louise Cox, Viola McVay, Louise McVay, Emma C. Hudson, Marjorie Lovins
Fourth Row: Madonna Kinkade, Ruby Veech, Helen Ashbrook, Leota Abercrombie, Anna Faye Herron, Eleanor Garvin.
Fifth Row: Mary F. Manson, Marie Anderson, Peggy Gordon, Jane Baker, Ruby Litch, Helen Figgins.

Girls' Athletic Association

"I promise to uphold the ideals of the Girls Athletic Association by promoting interest in athletics and the out-of-doors, by living so that I may be healthy and strong and by making sportsmanship a constant factor in my conduct." After taking this pledge, a girl becomes a full fledged member of the G.A.A. Under the able direction of Miss Lough, this organization has become a source of pleasure and benefit for a good many girls of W.C.H.S.

By keeping health and activity charts for eight consecutive weeks, points are gained and when the required number is obtained, awards of numerals and letters are presented. Officers are: Rosalie Storm, president, Janet Baker, vice-president, Elinor Curry, secretary-treasurer, Helen Ashbrook, point secretary.

Play Days have proved to be of special interest among the girls. The purpose of these is to enable girls to make new acquaintances and to gain new ideas for local organizations. Last fall one was held at Springfield and in May 1937 it was held at Windsor. The telegraphic basketball tournament was also enjoyed by the girls. The average number of baskets made out of twenty-four trials was sent into Chicago by the individual schools and the winners were announced later.

Basket Ball Squad

Second Row: Jack Jones, Eldred Venters, Charles Workman, Raymond Butcher, Eugene Baugher, Coach Dunscomb.

The Squad

Ralph Fuller our little forward is by far the best basket man we had this year. He is high point man in individual scoring and also high point man for many games. We call him "Rocky."

James Shafer our other forward (and center) is the best all around basketball player we had. He is good at basket shooting and has the fight it takes. Just call him "Jimmie."

Steven Elliott our star dribbler of the year is the last of the basket shooting Flatts. He has a fine record with the team and has played two years. Just remember him as "Punk."

Charles Workman our center is the next tallest boy on the squad and a good player. When he jumps the ball generally comes our way. Just call him "Chick."

Eldred Venters played only one semester here but in that one semester showed he was a player who had grit and fight in him. He was a whirlwind of action. We call him "Hot Shot."

John Will Johnson is the star guard of the year. He plays his position well and generally manages to score. To us he's just plain "Bill" or "Gobbler."

Glenn Noffke our lanky six foot substitute center is a promising player and should be good for the 1938 team. He answers to "Legs" most of the time.

Eugene Baugher is our stocky little second team forward who is quick on his feet and has an eye for the basket. He should make 1938 basketball interesting. Just say "Beany."

Milton Yunker should make a good man for the 1938 teams to play against. Just call him "Milt."

Raymond Butcher has done very good work this year on the second team and should rate a position on the first team of 1938. Maybe you call him "Ossie."

Jack Jones is our little forward who makes the opponent hustle to keep step with him. He's not so big but can he cover the floor.

Ray Morford has played good basketball what little while he was on the team and we only wish he had been here for all his high school work.

Bruce Kline is a promising player for the 1938 team. Just call him "Lard."

Harold Noffke our second team Noffke boy has done good work this year and should be quite good in 1938.

POW-WOW

Au Revoir, But Not Good-Bye

Among the records of Blue and Gold,
Repose the names of warriors bold
Who fought to keep the standard hyh,
Of which we're proud, both you and I.
To the list of names of seasons past
We add some more whose fame should last.
And now the timer's clock is dark,
The scorer's pencil has made its mark
For the last time, for this brave crew
Who fought for the honor of the Gold and Blue.
So here's to "Punk" and "Bill" and "Chick,"
Who played both strong and quick.
And "Rocky" and "Jimmy" and "Hot Shot,"
Who grinned what e'er their lot.

So here's to you, my bonny lads,
Of dear old Windsor High.
We wish you lots of luck, my lads,
Au revoir—but not good-bye.

State of Illinois, County of Shelby, City of Windsor.

We, the members of the class of nineteen hundred and thirty-seven of the Windsor Community High School, thinking ourselves to be of sound minds and being certain of our going forth from this school, do hereby leave this last Will and Testament to those not sharing in our fate, and declare all other Wills, null and void.

To the Junior Class: We bequeath the responsibility of keeping this school building in good condition.

To the Sophomore Class: We bequeath enough of our ability to enable them to master all Junior subjects.

To the Freshman Class: We bequeath the right to be somebody in three more years.

To Mr. Dunscomb: We leave our best wishes and sincere thanks for his hearty cooperation with us for four years.

To Mr. Gibson: We leave the honor of being Superintendent of Stewardson High School.

To Mr. Davis and Mr. Bennett: We leave our hearty thanks for their cooperation with us in making this Pow-Wow a success.

To Mr. Johnson: We leave our appreciation for his making agriculture a success.

To Miss Lilly: We leave the right to tell tall stories to her History IV classes.

To Miss Hood: We leave the position of drumming up trade for "Bennett's Service Station."

To Mrs. Lough: We leave our one hundred and eighty-sixth wad of chewing gum.

To Miss Sutter: We leave a typing class who will type a full two periods.

To Miss Walker: We leave the right to be a farm wife in the near future.

To Gerald Ross: Ray Morford leaves his good behavior.

To Dean Hartsell: Dick Gannaway leaves his winning ways.

To Ruby Latch: Gladys Jones leaves her ability to break hearts.

To Helen Ashbrook: Ada Maxedon leaves her ability to fly off the handle for no reason at all.

To Vernon Curry: Leo Latch leaves one half of his height.

To Ralph Kasey: Junior Mamion leaves his know it all attitude.

To Betty Ann Edwards: Rose Thompson leaves one half of her weight.

To J. S. Garvin: Bill Johnson leaves his three little words "I don't know."

To anyone that needs them, Ernestine Alexander leaves her Carter's Little Liver Pills.

To Imogene Shelton: Roumaine Shewmake leaves her ability to catch out of town boys.

To Milton Yunker: James Butcher leaves the right to carry on his barber rights.

To Jean Marye: Steven Elliott leaves his basketball ability.

To Maxine Templeton: Elinor Curry leaves her pep.

To any student from Gays coming to W.C.H.S. in '38: Ralph Fuller leaves his job as a mail carrier.

Class Prophecy

Feeling homesick for news of my former class mates who were graduated in the class of '37 at W.C.H.S., I chartered a plane for Windsor hoping to see many of them on my arrival. On my way to Windsor I had nothing else to do, so I picked up a newspaper, and what should cross my vision but the names of Gail Garner and Ivan Garrett. They had become tired of trying to "fly" a car, so were planning a trip to Mars by plane. The paper predicted happy landing, but didn't say where.

Glancing over the sport section, I saw James Butcher's and Rocky Fuller's names on the injured list for "Rocket" base-ball team, the outstanding team of the National League. Rocky had a sprained shoulder from swinging too hard while at bat, and Butcher a broken nose from one of the head long drives into home plate. On this same page I caught the name of Junior Manion, who was winner of the Olympic ten-mile marathon foot race, breaking all previous records. I saw that Mr. James Shafer, known in school as "Jimmy," who was basket-ball coach of the University of Illinois, was planning a trip to the West Coast accompanied by his wife, the former Ada Maxedon.

By that time the plane had reached Chicago, and as I had a two hour wait, I planned to go to the theatre. As it was a stage performance, I could not stay for all of it, but imagine my surprise when who should turn out to be the hero but Eldred Venters, who portrayed a perfect French gentleman.

I soon had to leave the show which I hated very much, but as I was very hungry, and would just have enough time to snatch a bite to eat and then leave, I stopped in a tiny but very pretty little restaurant, and imagine my surprise when Bill Johnson's head popped out from behind the cash register! Bill told me he always did want to work some place where he could eat whenever he was hungry, and this was about the most convenient place he could find. He also told me Eileen Robertson was head dietitian of one of the large hospitals there, and that Rose Thompson was one of the very ablest Red Cross nurses in the state of Illinois. Upon reaching Decatur, I had a three hour wait. A teachers' convention of Central Illinois was being held there. I decided to attend this, knowing many of my classmates were teachers. Among them were Mildred Thompson, Lela Noffke, and Gladys Jones, teachers of English, history, and typing respectively. My! these precious teachers with their horn-rimmed spectacles would hardly have been recognized as the little damsels of W.C.H.S. In Decatur I found Lois LeCrone was chief telephone operator in one of the leading hotels. I also learned that top notches in secretaries were Rosalie Storm and Ernestine Alexander. Rosalie was chief secretary for Mr. Dean Kearney (also chief cook and bottle washer). Ernestine was private secretary to Carter's law firm.

As it was time for the plane to leave, I hurried back to the airport, and guess who was boarding the plane? Charles Lichtenwaller, who later told me he was clerk in a large grocery store, which was prospering very well, according to the manager.

As I glanced over the "Decatur Review" I saw the picture of "Punk" Elliott topped by the word "Warner." Underneath the picture it said "Punk" had won the championship medal of best fisher and billiard player in Central Illinois.

In the advertisement section I saw where Miss Roumaine Shewmake or Mrs. Arthur McDaniels was wanting an extra girl to work in her Beauty Salon on Saturdays, as business was rushing.

In the agriculture section, Miss Phyllis Storm had won the honor of being the best woman livestock raiser in Illinois.

By this time I had arrived at Windsor. I called the bell-hop to take my luggage to the hotel, and the boy under the bell-hop's little red hat was none other than Ray Mordford. Ray told me he had been hoppin' for nearly three years, but I think he was referring to his occupation instead of life he led outside of the hotel. Upon arrival at the hotel I found registered there Dick Gannaway, whom I saw later at dinner, and he said that he was first lieutenant in U.S.A. Army, having left Jefferson Barracks the previous year, holding very high honors.

The next morning I asked the hotel manager if he knew where I could locate Elinor Curry. He said that Elinor had gone into the forestry business, with a few young trees as a start. He also told me that Alta Bea Lugar had gone on an extensive world tour.

I visited the farms of "Chick" Workman, Leo Latch, and Wilbur Mueller, all competing for the honor of best master farmer in the land.

After hearing about all my old friends, their occupations and locations, I decided to return to my home in Long Island, where I live a happy sociable life as a model in the largest clothing store here, and hope to hear from them more than once every five years in the future.

TRAGEDY

I woke to look upon a face, silent, white and cold.

Oh, friend! the agony I felt, can never half be told.

We'd lived together but a year, too soon, it seemed, to see those gentle hands outstretched and still, that toiled so hard for me.

My waking thoughts had been for one, who now to sleep has dropped.

'Twas hard to realize, Oh, friend, my Ingersoll had stopped.

Traffic Cop—Don't you know what I mean when I hold up my hand?

Miss Sutter—I ought to. I have been a schoolteacher for 25 years.

Anna Fay—Say something soft and sweet to me, dearest.

Paul Ellis—Custard Pie.

Gladys Jones—"How far down do you want to sit, Miss Lough?"

Miss Lough—"Why all the way, of course."

Girl—I maintain that love-making is just the same as it always was.

Her Sweetheart—How do you know?

Girl—I just read about a Greek maiden who sat and listened to a lyre all evening.

"Mel," said Mrs. Gibson as he got ready for bed, "Is everything shut up for the night?"

"That depends on you," muttered Mel, "Everything else is."

Paul Morrison—"Why are your socks on wrong side out, Legs?"

Legs Noffke—"My feet were hot, so I turned the hose on them."

Leo—"I've never seen such dreamy eyes!"

Vera—"You've never stayed quite so late before."

She—"Oh, George, the baby has swallowed the matches. What shall we do?"

He—"Here, use my cigarette lighter."

The girl of today is as good as the one of forty years ago—provided she isn't the same girl.

Ivan Garrett went to a mind reader once and she refunded his money when she found he had no mind.

Too many people turn over a new leaf when they should begin a new chapter.

Jobe—"My wife is an angel in three ways"

Mr. Davis—"How remarkable! How's that?"

Jobe—"Well, first she is always harping, second she is always up in the air, and third she never has an earthly thing to wear."

I sneezed a sneeze into the air,
It fell to the ground I knew not where;
But hard and cold were the looks of those

In whose vicinity I snoze.

A lot of men who plunge into the sea of matrimony have a hard time keeping their heads above water.

The reason busybodies have blue noses is because they always get a cold reception.

Mr. Bennett—Can you tell me one of the uses of cowhide?

Bob Jones—Yes, it keeps the cows together.

"Do you think autos are ruining the younger generation?"

"No, I think that the younger generation is ruining the autos."

She—"There's nothing more to be said.

He—Then you'll say it, of course.

W C H S

MR. DUNSCOMB, THE FOND PARENT

Now what do you think our Davy did?
My land, that boy is the cutest kid!
He set the house and the barn on fire
And then as the flames rose higher and higher

And the fireman came he was filled with glee

And he danced and a happy lad was he,
"Oh lookit Pa! Just see what I did!"
My land but he is the cutest kid.

Grandpa, in a speedy car,
Pushed the throttle down too far;
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
Music by the G. A. R.

Ralph Wilson—That Civics Class always makes a new boy of me.

Jim Butcher—You mean it gives you something you've been lacking?

Ralph Wilson—Yes, sleep!

Dentists are men who bore you to tears.

Definition of wisdom—Wisdom is knowing when to remember to forget and when to forget to remember.

Hubby—But, darling there isn't enough room in this apartment to swing a cat.

Wifey—Well, indeed, you're not going to hang Mother!

Dear Dad:

I received the threat in your last letter that my extravagance must be curbed, merely because you aren't making expenses. Now don't you worry. You just go on with your work and I'll make the expenses.

Love, Junior '41.

Miss Lilly—What did Paul Revere say at the end of his ride?

Wilbur Mueller—Whoa!

Those who pride themselves on being hard boiled are often only half baked.

Ray Butcher is suffering from compound fractions in school.

A statistician has figured that 64 per cent of home accidents occur in the kitchen.

Yeh, and we have to eat 'em all!

Motorist—I am exceedingly sorry I killed your dog, madam. Will you allow me to replace him?

Old Maid—Oh, sir! This is so sudden!

Dick Gannaway—I'll be back at midnight to carry you off and tomorrow we'll be married. Do you think you can slip away without detection?

Emma Catherine—Oh, certainly, Mother and Father have both promised to help me.

Mr. Johnson says rabbits feet are lucky. His wife felt one in his pocket and thought it was a mouse.

Waitress—"I have stewed kidneys, boiled tongue, fried liver and pigs feet."

Hard Executive—"Don't tell me your troubles, sister, give me a chicken pie."

New-wed—"I must go home now and darn my husband's socks."

Old-Wed—"I must go home, too, and sock my darn husband."

"No, your honor," pleaded Eldred in traffic court. "I wasn't driving 40 miles an hour, nor 30, nor 20, nor—"

"Ten days in jail," snapped the judge, "for driving in reverse."

Mother—"Well, son, what have you been doing all afternoon?"

Son—"Shooting craps, Mother."

Mother—"That must stop. Those little things have as much right to live as you have."

History surely repeats itself—Eve wore very few clothes.

 If Eugene Dietz really was the "man that went to town?"
 If Mary Jane were a carbuncle instead of a Boyle?
 If Emma were an Austin instead of a Hudson?
 If Wilbur were a bronco instead of a Mueller?
 If Roumaine were a blacksmith instead of a Shewmake?
 If Vivian were a hoot owl instead of a Martin?

FAMILY BUYS A NEW CAR

Father's question: "How many miles to a gallon?"

Mother's question: "What color is the upholstery?"

Son's question: "How fast will it go?"

Daughter's question: "Has it a good mirror?"

Neighbor's question: "How can they afford it?"

Dean N.: "It is my principle never to kiss a girl."

Barbara Jean: "You can't ever expect any interest from me then."

She: "Were you out after ten last nite?"

He: "No, only after one."

Eileen R.: "Loan me a nickel a minute."

Paul M.: "Wait a minute and you won't need it."

Tom C.: "Are you fond of nuts?"

Ernie A.: "Is this a proposal?"

Ray B.: "What shall we do?"

Walter R.: "I'll spin a coin. If it's heads, we'll go to the movies. If it's tails we'll go to the dance; if it stands on edge, we'll study."

Mr. Gibson: "Gail, give the principal parts of the verb, 'laugh.'"

Gail G.: "Laugh, Snickere, Collapsi, Eustum."

Rose T.: "Have you seen my belt any place around the room?"

Elinor C.: "No, did you put it around the room?"

Phyllis S.: "What do you think of a man that throws a girl a kiss?"

Mildred T.: "I think he is the laziest man in the world."
